In the event of the birth of any child under 18 years of age, the mother or the father shall present the child to the nearest hospital or medical facility for examination. The mother or father shall then notify the Department of Health and Welfare within 24 hours of the child's birth. Failure to do so shall result in a fine of $100 and a possible revocation of the child's birth certificate. The Department of Health and Welfare shall have the right to investigate any report of a birth that is not presented for examination. Failure to cooperate with an investigation shall result in additional fines and penalties.
