

and not even an actual
Non-Certified ^ Copy of Original Birth Record

Date of Birth:

State File Number:

Dated Issued:

Dated Filed:

Name Given at Birth:

Sex:

Place of Birth:

Parent:

Parent:

This document doesn't really represent a whole lot and cannot be verified using any available means. Let's just say we in vital records are a bit embarrassed to non-certify something that is not even a copy. Don't use this for any legal purpose because, to be honest, you will be seen as an idiot if you try. We are not even putting our state name on this crap. Seriously, try finding "Pennsylvania" anywhere on this document.

